When I started at Greater Cleveland Volunteers (then called 'Retired & Senior Volunteer Program of Greater Cleveland'), the organization was only 19 years old. Now we are in our 40th anniversary year. So much has changed over this time (in addition to our name): the expansion of our mission, the extension of our service area, new programs, new forms of communication.

And much has remained the same - we are still devoted to improving lives in the community through volunteerism, we are still committed to providing our volunteers with a quality experience, we continue to believe in Cleveland and Cuyahoga County. Many of our supporters have also been with us consistently over the years.

I want to see our agency thrive into the future. In this special year, I am asking our good friends to consider providing for us in their estate plans. Leaving a portion of your estate to Greater Cleveland Volunteers is relatively easy. This form of giving, known as a bequest, is popular because it doesn't involve giving any funds during your lifetime, and it will have a real impact on our organization's future. I hope to welcome a number of new donors and families into our Legacy Society this year.

Please call me if you are interested or have any questions.

Best wishes,
Joy Banish, Executive Director
