I want you...
to find me
some money!

It isn't easy being a nonprofit these days. At GCV, we (along with our partner agencies) are dealing with budget cuts from the Federal Government, from Cuyahoga County, and from the State of Ohio. Whereas government support used to be secure, now it is shrinking...and at risk of being reduced even further in 2012.

So what are we all doing? We are trimming our budgets, putting off new hires and purchases, asking our donors to give more generously, and relying more on the manpower and womanpower of our volunteers.

Just at the time when volunteers are desperately needed, the funding for our programs may wind up on the Congressional chopping block. In coming weeks and months, we will be doing a lot of advocacy work, so as to convince to Congress to maintain support for volunteerism programs. We will need your help, and we will welcome your participation and your advice.

Sincerely,

Joy Banish
Executive Director
